Individual pre-K/ ECEAP part day programs are encouraged to link with full-day community based child care programs. Technical assistance is available to support these local efforts. Many Head Start and ECEAP programs provide technical assistance over a period of years to guide child care providers to the level of quality and comprehensiveness that they can become subcontractors for full-day pre-K services.

Local child care providers are encouraged to consider collaborative approaches to develop full-day programs enriched with ECEAP and Head Start pre-K services. A package of services is provided delivering child care, medical exams, home visits and family support activities, through collaborative funding and service delivery among K-12, Head Start/ECEAP, Health Services and Child Care providers.

1.9.3 Will the State use Pre-K expenditures to meet more than 10% of the:

- Maintenance of effort requirement, OR
- Matching fund requirement?

If No to both, CHECK HERE ____.

If Yes to either, the following describes how the State will coordinate its Pre-K and child care services to expand the availability of child care (§98.53(h)(4)).

At present, 23% of the Pre-K programs are either wrap-around or integrated with child care programs. A significant initiative is under way to expand our Pre K program wherever relevant to provide full-day services.

- 1. The lead CCDF agency is working with leadership in Region X Head Start, Region X DHHS, the State Pre-K program (Early Childhood and Assistance Program or (ECEAP) and CCDF funded subsidy programs to expand the availability child care. The Governor's Head Start-State Collaboration Office and DCCCEL are developing a "Mapping Agency Regulations Project" that will compare regulations and standards across Early Childhood Education (ECE) programs with national standards. This will identify new paths for streamlining ECE services in Washington. Ultimately this will lead to more efficient and effective collaboration between programmatic funding streams and lending to more full day /full year pre-K services for the targeted population.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

On May 8, 2002, a Braided Funding Think Tank which was comprised of a group of state, Federal and local early childhood professionals met to consider current barriers to using multiple sources of funding for early childhood programs and strategies for facilitating this process. Participants identified fiscal and policy successes and challenges and included representatives from:

- Region X, Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families;
- State Departments of Social and Health Services (Division of Child Care and Early Learning, Governor's Head Start State Collaboration Project and Developmental Disabilities Council), Health, Community, Trade and Economic Development (ECEAP); and the
- Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction;
- Washington Association of Head Start and Early Childhood Education and Assistance Programs;
- Foundation for Early Learning;
- Northwest Finance Circle, City of Seattle;
- Nisqually and Skokomish Tribes; and
- Numerous local and early childhood programs which blend funding from a variety of State and Federal sources.

2. The state is currently in the process of updating the agreements between these agencies. The guidelines will be in accordance with the recent letter issued by the Child Care Bureau and Head Start Bureau. Revisions to the Funding Guidelines for Programs Using Blended Model to Provide Full-day Services are not available at this time as an attachment.

A workgroup is continuing to explore the possibility of extending child care subsidy eligibility through the Head Start/ECEAP program year, once eligibility is initially determined. It is also working on appropriate mechanisms for accounting of funds in jointly funded full-day programs which blend pre-K and child care. Any updated agreements reached by the workgroup will need to consider the guidelines developed. Additionally, the Vendor Contracting Practices Task Force was convened by the State of Washington Office of Financial Management to provide guidelines regarding the braiding of funds from different sources.

3. Focus groups in July 1999 brought together by the Governor's Head Start State Collaboration resulted in an event called the Child Care Partnership Forum. Teams from six locations throughout the state continue to come together to develop strategic plans. Teams consisted of representatives from licensing, subsidy, Head Start, local health jurisdictions, resource and referral agencies, and child care providers. A parallel state team also made up of the same entities also attended. Most teams have continued to meet with regards to some activity related to the forum.

Efforts are underway to link our Pre-K and Head Start programs with other state programs such as the Child Care Facility Fund. This allows these quality Pre-K programs to be promoted for their ability to add value to child care projects in search of funding from the Child Care Facility Fund.

PART 2 -- DEVELOPING THE CHILD CARE PROGRAM

Section 2.1 – Consultation and Results of Coordination:

Describe the consultations the Lead Agency held in developing this Plan. At a minimum, the description must include the following: 1) the representatives of local governments (including tribal organizations when such organizations exist within the boundaries of the State) that were consulted (658D(b)(2), §§98.12(b), 98.14(b)); and, 2) the results of coordination with other Federal, State, local, and tribal (if applicable) agencies and programs including those involved with public health, employment, public education, and TANF. (658D(b)(1)(D), §§98.12(a), 98.14(a)(1) & (2))

- 1. The lead agency consulted with the Child Care Coordinating Committee (CCCC), along with its Subsidy, and Systems Subcommittees. This statutorily established committee includes representatives from local government and communities. The tribes have added a tribal workgroup. The CCCC makes recommendations to state agencies and the legislature in its annual report. (See Attachment 1, CCCC December 2000 Annual Report To The Legislature-Feeding the Roots of the System: Financing Early Childhood and Youth Care and Education in the State of Washington).

According to statute membership of the committee include:

- One representative each from the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS), the Department of Community, Community Trade and Economic Development (DCTED), the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI), the Department of Health (DOH), the Department of Personnel (DOP) and any other agency having responsibility for regulation, provision, or funding of child care services in the state;
- One representative from the Department of Labor and Industries (L&I);
- One representative from the Department of Revenue (DOR);
- One representative from the Employment Security Department (ESD);
- At least one representative of family home child care providers and one representative of center care provider;
- At least one representative of early childhood development experts;
- At least one representative of school districts and teachers involved in the provision of child care and preschool programs;
- At least one parent education specialist;
- At least one representative of resource and referral programs;
- One pediatric or other health professional;
- At least one representative of college and university child care providers;
- At least one representative of a citizen group concerned with child care;
- At least one representative of a labor organization;
- At least one representative of a Head Start-Early Childhood Education Assistance Program agency;
- At least one employer who provides child care assistance to employees;

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- Parents of children receiving, or in need of, child care, half of whom shall be parents needing or receiving subsidized child care and half of whom shall be parents who are able to pay for child care.
- 2. The lead agency's Division of Child Care and Early Learning (DCCEL), has convened a "Tribal-State work group composed of representatives from all 26 Indian tribes within in the state, to resolve major issues such as: Indian dual eligibility; accessibility to child care subsidy programs; state certification for payment in tribally licensed facilities; improvement of communication so tribes are notified of available quality improvement grants; state-wide DSHS policy interpretation; state- wide health and safety standards for tribally licensed child care facilities.
- 3. The Governor's Head Start-State Collaboration Project and Early Childhood and Assistance Program (ECEAP) have been working together with child care programs to maximize linkages between early childhood programs and child care. Intended results are the promotion of full-day services for children and high quality, comprehensive care.
- 4. The Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction; Department of Social and Health Services; Department of Health; Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development; and the Office of Financial Management in conjunction with the Washington State Project Steps Team collaborated to develop and implement a statewide transition system in early childhood (birth through age 8).

Washington is one of several states affiliated with the Sequenced Transition to Education in the Public Schools (Project Steps), a national outreach project. The STEPS model relies heavily on community planning. The model is designed to ensure an understanding of the components of transition combined with a process for developing and implementing a transition system for young children and families. Effective transitions prepare children to enter school ready for success.

- 5. Public input into the planning process was also solicited through nine public forums focused on foster care and child care issues in Washington State. These forums were held from March 2000 through October 2000. These forums were held in Spokane, Yakima, Edmonds, Mt. Vernon, Oak Harbor, Seattle, Tacoma, and Olympia. In addition, a toll free number was published along with an e-mail address to gather input. A summary of findings is attached. (See Attachment 2, Results of Regional Focus Groups and Results of Questionnaires On Concerns About Child Care in Washington State).
- 6. Information regarding the Child Care and Development Plan was presented and questionnaires soliciting input were circulated to providers, agencies and stakeholders throughout the state from January 2001 through April 2001. These meetings were held in Yakima, Spokane, Kent, Seattle, Everett, and Olympia. The CCDF Plan was also discussed and questionnaires were distributed to members of the CCCC and its subcommittees. A statewide survey was also sent to approximately 27,000 providers and parents to gather input about child care issues in the state.

7. Executive cabinet agencies that administer child care and early learning programs were directed in August 2000 to develop a policy agenda that balances the need for high quality programs with the demand for affordable, accessible care. This included identifying common ground business practices between separate agencies and individual practices. An organizational study was conducted that looked at these separate entities and made recommendations for improvement. The Office of Child Care Policy (OCCP) has several functions: regulatory (licensing child care providers), policy (administering subsidy policy and planning for use of federal funds), and fiscal and contract management for the federal Child Care Development Fund. Working Connections Child Care (WCCC) part of the Workfirst Division of Economic Services Administration, administered the subsidy program supporting low to moderate-income families. Working Connections staff also managed contracts with some of the same community organizations with which OCCP contracted. OCCP and WCCC shared the same funding source, stakeholder groups, and both had licensed child care providers as a common customer. Seeing the functional similarities between OCCP and WCCC the State of Washington created the Division of Child Care and Early Learning.

To complete the integration of child care and early learning functions the decision was made to integrate the health survey function from the Department of Health and the Governor's Head Start Collaboration Project into the new Division of Child Care and Early Learning under Economic Services Administration. This new organizational structure came into place on July 1, 2001. One division administering the entire block grant leads to improved coordination between licensing and subsidy policy and service delivery(including training) and efficient business practices by combining program and practices with similar or duplicative functions.

TANF is part of Economic Services Administration and TANF clients can now receive TANF benefits and child care at the same time thus providing better service to families. As a result of this reorganization consultation with TANF has been improved.

Section 2.2 - Public Hearing Process:

Describe the Statewide public hearing process held to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the provision of child care services under this Plan. At a minimum, the description must include the date(s) of the hearing(s), how and when the public was notified Statewide of the hearing(s), the hearing site(s), and how the content of the Plan was made available to the public in advance of the hearing. (658D(b)(1)(C), §98.14(c))

A stakeholder meeting was co-sponsored by the Child Care Coordinating Committee, DSHS, OCCP and Economic Services on April 9, 2001, for the purpose of strategic planning for the Child Care Development Fund Plan. This meeting focused on the current CCDF plan and prioritizing of child care dollars. (See attachments 3, Child Care Development Fund Plan (CCDF) Strategic Planning Meeting April 9, 2001, 9:00AM – 4:00PM).

Four Public Hearings were held in mid-June 2001 to gather public input on the draft of the Child Care Development Fund Plan. The public was given four opportunities to provide comment on the CCDF plan. Hearings were held in Seattle, Yakima, Spokane and Vancouver. Notice of the public hearing were sent in English and Spanish to the Child Care Coordinating Committee and through a mass mailing. Comments could also be sent via E-mail to egel300@dshs.wa.gov. The Public Hearing notice was published for release in the news section of the paper. Copies of the state plan and public hearing notice were available on the DSHS Web Site at <http://www.wa.gov/dshs/occp>. (See attachment 4 and 5, Child Care Development Fund Plan Hearing on State Plan for 2002-2003 in English and Spanish.)

Section 2.3 - Public-Private Partnerships: Describe the activities, including planned activities, to encourage public-private partnerships which promote private-sector involvement in meeting child care needs. (658D(b)(1), §98.16(d))

Ongoing coordination around child care service delivery occurs as follows:

- (a) In 1988 the state Child Care Coordinating Committee (CCCC) was statutorily created in anticipation of federal child care regulation. This group is required to facilitate coordination and communication among state agencies involved in child care and early childhood services and makes recommendations regarding improvements to state services.

The CCCC consists of members from local government, resource and referral agencies, public schools, local health departments, early childhood education programs, child care providers, parents, private business representatives, advocacy groups, the Washington State legislature and state agencies. The CCCC is responsible for reviewing lead agency plans and making an annual report to the legislature. The full CCCC or its steering committee meets monthly; subcommittees are required. There are nine subcommittees including: Health and Safety, Subsidy, Career Development, Systems, Partnership, Public Policy, Inclusive Child Care, School-Age, and Licensing.

The CCCC serves in an advisory capacity to the lead agency and other administering agencies that provide services under the Child Care Development Fund.

- (b) Coordination is also maintained with other groups:

- (1) Resource and Referral Agencies. This plan includes operating funds for resource and referral. Resource and referral agencies play an active role in coordinating and developing child care services at the local community level under contracts

CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

with the lead agency. (See Attachment 6, Child Care Resource and Referral Network Roster)

- (2) Indian Tribes. A tribal representative participates on the Child Care Coordinating Committee. Ongoing coordination is also achieved through DSHS Indian Policy Specialists, DCCEL Tribal Liaison, and in cooperation with the Region HHS office. DCCEL is working with a tribal work group to facilitate coordination and problem solving related to tribal access to child care resources. Some of the on-going issues include: improving tribal members' access to child care subsidies, clarifying licensing and certification definitions and differences, helping tribes get to the level of recommended health and safety standards, and making training and technical assistance more readily available to tribes.
- (3) DSHS Child Care Programs. DSHS administers child care subsidies for low income non-TANF families, child care related to protective services (CPS/CWS, alcohol, and substance abuse, therapeutic, and employed foster parents), and families being served through TANF programs, Seasonal and/ or Teen Parent programs. DSHS administers child care licensing, as well as planning and development activities such as resource and referral and consumer education. Coordination among these programs is achieved through monthly meetings of the DSHS Internal Child Care Coordinating Committee (ICCCC). (See Attachment 7, ICCCC Roster)
- (4) Ad hoc committees. These committees are comprised of community representatives. These committees are comprised of community representatives and are convened as necessary to develop programs and program changes required to meet CCDF rules.
- (5) ECEAP AND HEADSTART. ECEAP and Head Start closely coordinate policy development to ensure consistency for dually-funded Head Start and ECEAP providers and coordinate the allocation of early childhood funds. ECEAP and Head Start are represented on the CCCC. Also the CCCC and DCCEL are actively involved in the Governor's Head Start Collaboration Project.
- (6) Washington Association for the Education of Young Children (WAEYC). WAEYC manages the training component of the Washington State Training And Registry System (Washington STARS). STARS is a statewide training initiative responsible for coordinating the required basic 20 hour training and the annual 10 hour training offered throughout the state in a variety of venues. This coordination includes designating training sites, selecting trainers, and approving processes for training,
- (7) DCCEL has developed public-private partnerships with corporations and businesses in the state to increase public awareness of the need for quality, affordable child care in Washington, to increase the number of employer-supported child care facilities in Washington and to increase the availability of capital funds for child care facilities.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- DCCEL (as OCCP) has been actively involved in the support of the Governor's Commission on Child Care and Early Learning. This commission, comprised of business leaders, community organization representatives, parents and child care experts, developed a statewide public information campaign on the importance of the child's first three years of life and how parents and caregivers can help babies learn. This commission also assisted in the replication of the TEACH program in Washington and in the creation of the Washington Early Learning Foundation (this foundation is raising private funds to help support TEACH and to support parent education programs in Washington).
- DCCEL (as OCCP) has contracted with the state's Department of Community Trade and Economic Development (DCTED) for the past ten years to manage a statewide Child Care Facility Fund for employers. This fund as well as employers' need to recruit and retain employees has resulted in the expansion of employer-supported child care facilities for their employees. Collectively, these facilities provide care for 5500 children.
- DCCEL (as OCCP) has also contracted with DCTED for the past two years to manage a Child Care Micro Loan program. This program has given almost $1,000,000 to five lending institutions throughout the state to provide small, below market rate loans to child care providers to help them start or expand their businesses. The local lenders have raised additional funds from local and national banks to support the Child Micro Loan program.

Outcomes of this coordination include program opportunities such as initiatives by State and Local Health Departments focused on consultation for providers, engagement of local providers in quality enhancement activities providing technical assistance, and resources and training. Additionally, outcomes include increase in the number of full-day/full-year Head Start and ECEAP programs, better linkage of school-age programs with the Department of Education initiatives like the 21st Century Learning Centers, joint conferencing linking family support and child care with business community, state-wide training for providers, parents, state agency employees, business groups, and increased knowledge in brain development through an initiative called BrainNet, and Washington STARS.

PART 3 -- CHILD CARE SERVICES OFFERED

Section 3.1 - Description of Child Care Services:

REMINDER: The Lead Agency must offer certificates for services funded under 45 CFR

- Low-income parents who are attending vocational classes in evenings and weekends (Extended Hour Project).

Both groups of students using child care slots must be eligible for Working Connections Child Care.

3.1.2 The Lead Agency must allow for in-home care, but may limit its use. Does the Lead Agency limit the use of in-home care in any way?

() No.

(X) Yes, and the limits and the reasons for those limits are (§§98.16(g)(2), 98.30(e)(1)(iv)):

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

The lead agency does not allow in-home care for Seasonal Child Care because this service is primarily for the migrant population. Most of this population lives in sub-standard housing and the lead agency would not be able to ensure the health and safety of the children. Seasonal Child Care is the only program with this limitation.

3.1.3 Are all of the child care services described in 3.1.1 above (including certificates) offered throughout the State? (658E(a), §98.16(g)(3))

() Yes

(X) No, and the following are the localities (political subdivisions) and the services that are not offered:

Seasonal Child Care which is not offered in the northeastern corner of the state nor in western Washington except for Skagit and Whatcom Counties.

Section 3.2 - Payment Rates for the Provision of Child Care :

The statute (at 658E(c)(4)) requires the Lead Agency to establish payment rates for child care services that ensure eligible children equal access to comparable care and these rates are provided as Attachment (27). The attached payment rates will phase-in over a period of six months beginning January1, 2002, and ending June 30, 2002.

The rates are the maximum amounts the state will pay for child care in each rate category. In the spring of 2000, DSHS conducted surveys of: 1) child care centers; and (2) licensed family child care homes. The surveys attempted to call all 2,004 child care centers and a stratified random sample of about 19% of the 7,208 child care homes. Data are weighted based on the actual number of providers in each county.

The market rate survey conducted by the State of Washington, Research and Data Analysis (RDA) staff reflected a need to increase the maximum rates for subsidized child care. New rates were established and set at the "58th percentile", which means the rates are set so that 58% of child care slots statewide are available to subsidized families at the provider's usual rate. Most subsidy rates increased, and those that did not increase stayed at the current level; no rates decreased.

The following is a summary of the facts relied on by the State to determine that the attached rates are sufficient to ensure equal access to comparable child care services provided to children whose parents are not eligible to receive child care assistance under the CCDF and other governmental programs. Include, at a minimum:

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- The month and year of the local market rate survey(s) Feb.- May, 2000 (§98.43(b)(2))
 - How the payment rates are adequate to ensure equal access based on the results of the above noted local market rate survey (i.e., the relationship between the attached payment rates and the market rates observed in the survey): (§98.43(b))

Rates are set at the 58th percentile of prices observed in the 2000 survey for each local market (DSHS Administrative Region). These rates will be phased-in over a period of six months beginning January 1, 2002, and ending June 30th, 2002.

- Additional facts that the Lead Agency relies on to determine that its payment rates ensure equal access include: (§98.43(d))

Washington State attempts to ensure equal access by making the same proportion of slots available to families regardless of where they live in the state and regardless of the type of care that they choose (center vs. family home).

The state analyzed the amount of the market that the new DSHS rates would buy for each county in Washington State. Counties were identified as needing special treatment if the new Regional rates would buy less than half of the full-time slots in the county for full-time infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Four counties (Benton, Clark, Walla Walla, and Whitman) met the criterion. These counties were assigned to new "center" rates based on the DSHS Region they most closely resembled. The "family home" rates for these counties continued to be at the regional rate in which the county is physically located.

- If the payment rates do not reflect individual rates for the full range of providers -- center-based, group home, family and in-home care -- explain how the choice of the full range of providers is made available to parents:

The lead agency has no payment rates for “group homes” because this is not a licensed category in the state for child care. [Family homes with larger capacities are licensed in the family home category.] The lead agency sets maximum payment rates for licensed centers, family child care homes, care in the child’s home and in the home of the relative provider.

The state pays a monthly bonus to licensed/certified providers when care is authorized for non-standard hours (before 6:00 a.m., after 6:00 p.m., or any time on Saturday and Sunday). See Attachment #8 for Non-Standard Hour Bonus rate chart.

Licensed/certified providers receive a $250 infant bonus when they accept an infant (under 12 months old) in care. The provider must expect to care for the infant for five or more days and may only receive a bonus one time for that infant.

The state pays up to a maximum amount for slots created in licensed child care centers linked to the Families that Work and Extended Hours Care programs, as follows:

Payment table for slot creation

1 Age of child	2 Maximum payment per slot
1. Infant (0-11 months)	$3000
2. Toddler (12-29 months)	$1750

Section 3.3 - Eligibility Criteria for Child Care:

By statute, all eligible children must be under the age of 13 and reside with a family whose income does not exceed 85% of the State Median Income (SMI) for a family of the same size and whose parent(s) are working or attending a job training or educational program or who receive or need to receive protective services. (658E(c)(3)(B), 658P(3), §98.20(a))

- 3.3.1 Complete column (a) in the matrix below. Complete Column (b) ONLY IF the Lead Agency is using income eligibility limits lower than 85% of the SMI).

IF APPLICABLE
Family Size	(a) 85% of State Median Income (SMI) ($/month)	(b) Income Level, lower than 85% SMI, if used to limit eligibility ($/month)
1	2,272	1,476
2	2,971	1,990
3	3,670	2,504
4	4,369	3,016
5	5,068	3,530

Washington State calculates a state median income for each calendar year. The method uses the median income for a family of four for the federal fiscal year published by ACF. It then adjusts upward for inflation to compensate for the three month difference between fiscal and calendar years.

- 3.3.2 How does the Lead Agency define “income” for the purposes of eligibility? Is any income deducted or excluded from total family income, for instance, work or medical expenses; child support paid to, or received from, other households; Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments? Is the income of all family members included, or is the income of certain family members living in the household excluded? Please describe and/or include information as Attachment 10. (§§98.16(g)(5), 98.20(b))

“Income” means any appreciable gain in real or personal property (cash or in-kind) received by a client during the month for which eligibility is determined, and that can be applied toward the needs of the assistance unit. (See attachment 10, definition of terms according to WAC 388-22-030.)

 - (b) Military housing and food allowance;
 - (c) Income in-kind.
“Income in-kind” means income received in a form other than cash, such as goods, services, or room and board.
- (2) Working Connection Child Care (WCCC) counts the following as unearned income when figuring the WCCC co-payment:
- (a) The TANF grant, except when exempt under WAC 388-290-475;

 - (c) General assistance;
 - (d) Supplemental Security Income (SSI);
 - (e) Other social security payments, such as SSA and SSDI;

 - (h) Unemployment compensation; and
 - (i) Other types of unearned income not exempted in WAC 388-290-475.

The Co-pay Calculation Table effective April 1, 2001, is included as attachment 11.

3.3.3 Has the Lead Agency established additional eligibility conditions or priority rules, for example, income limits that vary in different parts of the State, special eligibility for families receiving TANF, or eligibility that differs for families that include a child with special needs? (658E(c)(3)(B), §98.16(g)(5), §98.20(b))

- () No

Unmarried parents with no mutual children	Each parent and his/her respective child(ren) separate from the other parent and his/her child(ren)

A minor parent residing with his/her parent(s)	The minor parent and his/her child(ren)

In addition, the TANF grant is not counted for the first three months of employment to allow families time for successful transition to work employment.

The following income is exempted by the department when figuring co-payments:

- (1) Income types in WAC 388-450-0015, WAC 388-450-0035, WAC 388-450-0040, and WAC 388-450-0055;

- (4) Reimbursements, such as an income tax refund;
- (5) Diversion Cash Assistance;
- (6) Child support you pay out under court order, Division of Child Support administrative order, or tribal government order.
- (7) The TANF grant for the first three consecutive calendar months after you start a new job. The first calendar month is the month in which you start working.

- 3.3.4 Has the Lead Agency elected to waive, on a case-by-case basis, the fee and income eligibility requirements for cases in which children receive, or need to receive, protective services, as defined in Appendix 2? (658E(c)(3)(B), 658P(3)(C)(ii), §98.20(a)(3)(ii)(A))

Section 3.4 Priorities for Children:

3.4 The following describes the priorities for serving CCDF-eligible children including how statutorily required priority is given to children of families with very low family income and children with special needs: (Terms must be defined in Appendix 2) (658E(c)(3)(B))

Currently, there is not a waiting list for child care services in the State of Washington, although there is occasionally a waiting list for the Seasonal Child Care Program. When waiting lists are necessary, our contingency plan is to place children with special needs and children from very low income families on a priority waiting list. Families on the priority waiting list will be served before authorizations are made off the non-priority waiting list. Documentation for a special needs child is not necessary for placement on the priority list but is required to receive authorization for a child care subsidy.

CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

If providing equal access is a concern, the state pays a higher rate to providers who care for children with special needs. To get a higher rate, the child's special needs must be documented and the child must require a higher level of care. (See Attachment 11, Include Me/Guide to Inclusive Child Care, DSHS publication 22-486(X)(2/01)). In addition, a Child Care Subsidies booklet for licensed and certified child care providers is available. (See Attachment 12, Child Care Subsidies/A booklet For Licensed and Certified Providers).

DCCEL is exploring with CA options to enhance the quality and capacity of child care for CPS/CWS clients and children in foster care, by developing a special model program to serve this population.

- 3.4.2 The following describes how CCDF funds will be used to meet the needs of families who are receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), families who are attempting through work activities to transition off of TANF, and families that are at risk of becoming dependent on TANF. (658E(c)(2)(H), Section 418(b)(2) of the Social Security Act, §§98.50(e), 98.16(g)(4))

Under Washington State's welfare reform, "Workfirst" legislation, an integrated child care subsidy program, Working Connections Child Care, went into effect July 1997. Child care services are administered by the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services, Economic Services Administration, Division of Child Care and Early Learning.

All income-eligible families (gross income minus child support paid out and if at or below 200% of the federal poverty level adjusted for family size) who are participating with children under 13 or under 19 if a special needs child, regardless of their source of income, (whether TANF, employment, or a combination) are eligible for subsidized child care services with a co-payment. Preference is no longer given to families due to TANF status. Rather, the goal is to support employment for all eligible low-income families. These services are delivered through the individual welfare office, or Community Services Offices (CSO'S). The monthly co-payment is made by the parent directly to the provider.

Non-TANF Teen Parent Child Care will be administered through the Working Connections Child Care Program. These services are delivered through the individual welfare office, or Community Services Offices (CSO's). The monthly co-payment is made by the parent directly to the provider. Some communities provide services to families via call centers.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE

CPS and CWS, and Employed Foster Parent Child Care are served through DSHS, Children's Administration.

At least 70% of CCDF funds are spent on child care subsidies in this population.

TANF families who are awaiting approval of TANF eligibility who are ready for immediate job search, may be authorized child care benefits while their application is pending. These families complete a child care application and have the provider of their choice complete the provider information form. Child care is authorized if the TANF application is approved. If found to be ineligible for TANF, child care benefits stop.

Families receiving Food Stamp benefits who are required to participate in Food Stamp Employment and Training activities, are eligible for child care for work activities if they complete the WCCC application and meet the WCCC Program requirements. WCCC Program has the same requirements Food Stamp Employment and Training participants as those for TANF WorkFirst participants.

3.5.3 The Lead Agency may waive contributions from families whose incomes are at or below the poverty level for a family of the same size, (§98.42(c)), and the poverty level used by the Lead Agency for a family of 3 is: $ 1,219.

(See attachment 13, Federal Poverty Level Chart 2001)

The Lead Agency must elect ONE of these options:

- ☐ ALL families with income at or below the poverty level for a family of the same size ARE NOT required to pay a fee.
☐ ALL families, including those with incomes at or below the poverty level for families of the same size, ARE required to pay a fee.
☒ SOME families with income at or below the poverty level for a family of the same size ARE NOT required to pay a fee. A description of these families is:

Foster parents may receive child care subsidies for their foster children with no co-payment. Co-payments may be waived on a case-by-case basis for CPS and CWS child care.

3.5.4 Does the Lead Agency have a policy which prohibits child care providers from charging families any unsubsidized portion of the providers' normal fees (in addition to the contributions discussed in 3.5.1)? (§98.43(b)(3))

- ☐ No
☒ Yes, please describe:

Child Care providers who accept children who receive child care subsidies are prohibited from charging families in addition to the DSHS rate.

3.5.5 The following is an explanation of how the co-payments required by the Lead Agency's sliding fee scale(s) are affordable: (§98.43(b)(3))

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

In December 1997, the Washington State Institute for Public Policy of the Evergreen State College, published a report entitled Child Care Co-payment Affordability Study: Are Washington State's Child Care Co-payments Reasonable and Affordable? The purpose of the report was to assess whether the co-payment structure of the Working Connections Child Care Program was affordable for families.

Three affordability guidelines were developed specifically for this report, taking into account the following factors: 1) Consideration of the limited resources available to families; 2) Data on typical child care expenditures; and 3) The lead agency's policy goal of helping families benefit from employment. These three guidelines were considered in determining if co-payments were affordable:

- Does the co-payment schedule take into account that below a minimum income co-payments may compete with expenditures on basic necessities such as shelter, utilities, and transportation?
- Is the maximum co-payment (representative of what families with similar incomes spend on child care) at or below 12 percent of family income?
- When a family's earned income increases, does the co-payment schedule avoid reductions in the family's total resources?

When Washington's co-payment schedule was then compared with the co-payment schedules of 28 other states, the findings were:

- The beginning and ending points of Washington's schedule are similar to most of the other states surveyed; and
- Washington State families with gross incomes between 100 and 145% of the federal poverty level pay lower co-payments than would similar families in most of the other states surveyed.

When measured against these affordability guidelines of other states, Washington's co-payment schedule is reasonable and affordable for families.

Section 3.6 - Certificate Payment System:

A child care certificate means a certificate, check, or other disbursement that is issued by the Lead Agency directly to a parent who may use it only to pay for child care services from a variety of providers (including center-based, group home, family and in-home child care), or, if required, as a deposit for services. (658E(c)(2)(A)), 658P(2), §§98.2, 98.16(k), 98.30(c)(3) & (e)(1))

Describe the overall child care certificate payment process, including, at a minimum:

- 3.6.1 A description of the form of the certificate: (§98.16(k))

As part of the award letter given to the parent after determining eligibility, documents (WCCC Award/Change Letter and Working Connection Child Care Information You Need To Know DSHS 07-066(REV. 05/2000) and In-Home Relative Provider Letter, DSHS 07-075 (REV. 05/2000) are generated indicating the maximum amount of child care for which the family is eligible, the dates of that eligibility, and the activity the child care is supporting. In addition, the parents and the provider complete a provider information form that collects the pertinent information needed to make payment to the provider. (See attachment 25, WCCC Award/Change Letter and Working Connections Child Care Information You Need To Know and attachment 26, In Home Relative Provider Letter).

- 3.6.2 A description of how the certificate program permits parents to choose from a variety of child care settings by explaining how a parent moves from receipt of the certificate to the choice of provider; (658E(c)(2)(A)(iii), 658P(2), §§98.2, 98.30(c)(4) & (e)(1) & (2))

Parents may choose from all licensed or certified child care facilities (including centers and homes) or a relative/ in-home care provider who meets the program's guidelines. Under CCDF, child care information is provided to families in the form of a pamphlet, (Child Care Options In Washington State, DSHS 22-859x). Parents who need help in selecting a child care provider, are referred to the local Child Care Resource and Referral agency. (See Attachment 14, Child Care Options in Washington State)

Note: If a parent chooses to use child care subsidies in a bordering state, the child care facility must meet that bordering state's licensing or certification rules.

When a child who is in care or custody of Washington State qualifies for Children's Administration child care subsidy programs and needs child care in another state, Washington will authorize care consistent with the state's CCDF child care subsidy policies and the Interstate Compact Agreement for Child Welfare Agencies.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

When a child qualifies for Working Connections Child Care (WCCC) Program and needs child care in another state, WCCC will authorize care to a provider who meets that other state's licensing regulations. WCCC will pay the lead agency's maximum child care subsidy rate based on the child's age and region where they live or the provider's rate, whichever is less.

- 3.6.3 If the Lead Agency is also providing child care services through grants and contracts, explain how it ensures that parents offered child care services are given the option of receiving a child care certificate. (§98.30(a) & (b))

Parents are notified of their choice to access ECEAP services if they are income eligible. Parents who access ECEAP services will be referred to the local DSHS office and resource and referral organization if they are in need of additional child care.

Parents who meet income and program guidelines for the Seasonal Child Care Program are given information about the types of licensed child care available to them. The local resource and referral agency may be contacted for child care referrals that meet the families needs. The parents make the selection. The Seasonal Child Care Program is offered in Yakima, Kittitas, Benton, Franklin, Walla Walla, Adams, Grant, Douglas, Chelan, Skagit, and Whatcom Counties. The amount of child care services provided are limited to $8,448,103.00 per year.

The department partners with the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges to create and reserve child care slots, however, student parents are under no obligation to use the reserved child care slots. They have the option of making the selection of child care elsewhere.

CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

PART 4 - PROCESSES WITH PARENTS

- 4.1 The following describes the process for a family to apply/receive child care services (658D(b)(1)(A), 658E(c)(2)(D) & (3)(B), §§98.16(k), 98.30(a) through (e)). If the process varies for families based on eligibility category, for instance, TANF versus non-TANF, please describe. The description should include:
- How parents are informed of the availability of child care services and of available child care options;
 - Where/how applications are made;
 - Who makes the eligibility determination;
 - How parents who receive TANF benefits are informed about the exception to individual penalties as described in 4.4; and
 - Length of eligibility including variations that relate to the services provided, e.g., through collaborations with Head Start or pre-kindergarten programs.
- Parents receive information about the WCCC program (and other child care subsidies available through a continuum of services) through their local DSHS office, resource and referral agency, child care provider, Seasonal Child Care, Homeless Child Care, or other community agencies. Posters and brochures are available in six languages publicizing the availability of these services. Parents are informed of their options through DSHS workers, resource and referral agencies, brochures and child care providers (including ECEAP and Seasonal). (See attachment 15, DSHS publication Seasonal Agricultural Workers! Do you work in fields, orchards or packing sheds?) (DSHS 22-330)(X) Rev. (5/00) and attachment 16, DSHS publication Homeless) (DSHS 22-194)(X) 6/96.
 - With the exception of ECEAP and Seasonal Child Care (where contractors conduct eligibility functions) eligibility determinations are made at the local DSHS office. A voucher system is used in which parents apply for services and tell the authorizing worker the name of the provider of the choice. An award letter stating the amount of care, dates of eligibility, and activity covered by child care is sent to the parents. Upon entering the authorization into the payment system, the provider (or parent in the case of in-home care) receives an invoice at the end of each month for verification services and signature. This is returned to DSHS triggering issuance of a check by the 10th of the month.
 - Parents are notified of their opportunity to access ECEAP services if they are income eligible. Parents who choose to apply for ECEAP services are referred to the local DSHS office and resource and referral organization when they are in need of full-day child care.

WCCC eligibility requirements and rules take precedence when a family has a child enrolled in a “blended Headstart/ECEAP site” (one that is also a licensed child care center or home). The family must meet WCCC income guidelines and the provider must be licensed or certified. The amount of care authorized is based on the parent and child's schedule (no longer than six months). The families on-going eligibility is based on WCCC criteria. All WCCC children are authorized a full-day of care when the need is for five(5) hours or more a day or one hundred ten days (110) hours or more a month. There is no specific agreement between Headstart and DSHS at this time. Again the family is primarily subject to WCCC eligibility requirements and rules.

CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- Potentially eligible families requesting child care benefits are given a Working Connections Child Care (WCCC) or other DSHS child care program application, or an application is taken over the phone, and referred to the appropriate agency staff. As part of the application, the provider information form is taken to the provider of choice by the parent, and completed by the provider indicating the provider's availability and cost of care. Based on the completed application and verified income, WCCC staff, Children's Administration staff, or contractor (in the case of Seasonal Child Care) determine eligibility and calculate the family's co-payment as it applies. The award letter is generated to the parent stating the eligibility period, the amount of the monthly co-payment, and the activity covered by the child care. The parent may take this form to the provider of choice as an assurance of the family's eligibility. The computerized letter generated by the DSHS voucher payment system serves as written authorization to the provider, as well as written verification to the client. Authorizations are for a maximum of six months. All families will have co-payments reviewed periodically in accordance with the Department's written requirements with the exception of Employed Foster Parent Child Care Program.
- On January 8, 2001, the Community Services Division implemented a new Child Care Call Center in Yakima. Low-income working families in Region 2 can now call a toll-free number to apply for subsidized child care or get information on local child care resources. Families currently receiving help through Working Connections Child Care Program can also call this number to report changes in their circumstances. Other Call Centers are being developed across the state to improve service delivery efficiencies.

- 4.2 The following is a detailed description of how the State maintains a record of substantiated parental complaints and how it makes the information regarding such parental complaints available to the public on request. (658E(c)(2)(C), §98.32))

DSHS maintains a record of complaints (from parents and others) in the Case and Management Information System (CAMIS), Children's Administration (CA) automation system. Complaints are received, categorized, and forwarded for investigation to licensor or CPS investigators as appropriate by CA Intake staff. The outcome of licensing and/or CPS investigations is entered into CAMIS, whether "founded", "unfounded" or "inconclusive" (CPS allegations) or "valid", "invalid", or "inconclusive" (licensing allegations). Complaint outcome information is available to parents and the public on request by telephoning the facility licensor. Parents and the public can also request public disclosure of licensing files to obtain written information. This includes information about complaint receipt and outcomes.

CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

A child care complaint brochure (Child Care Complaint Process-What Happens when there is a complaint about a Child Care Home or Center? DSHS 22-159(X)) is available explaining what happens when complaints about child care are registered with the Children's Administration Intake office and how decisions are made to determine if the complaint is investigated by CPS or DCCL. Procedures for investigations are explained along with follow up procedures after investigation is completed. (See Attachment 17, DSHS publication Child Care Complaint Process-What happens when there is a complaint about a Child Care Home or Center? DSHS 22-159(X)(6/98))

The Licensed Child Care Information line (1-866-48-CHECK) is available for parents who want to gain information about the licensed status of their child care provider. Basic information is provided about capacity, ages of children served, and the length of time a provider has been licensed. Parents can also obtain information on whether a home or center has been revoked or suspended or is in summary suspension, as well as if the home or center has any founded Children's Protective Services complaints.

- 4.3 The following is a detailed description of the procedures in effect in the State for affording parents unlimited access to their children whenever their children are in the care of a provider who receives CCDF funds. (658E(c)(2)(B), §98.31))

Written in the Washington State Code (WAC 388-150-170(2)(e), 388-155-170(2)(e) is the following directive to each child day care center and family home licensee:

“The licensee shall give the parent the following written policy and procedure information: Permission for free access by the child's parent to all center (home) areas used by the child.”

This information is found in the booklets (Minimum Licensing Requirements for Child Day Care Centers, Minimum Licensing Requirements for Family Child Day Care Homes and Minimum Licensing Requirements for Child Day Care Centers Caring Exclusively for School-Age Children) that are given to child care providers.

- 4.4 The regulations at §98.33(b) require the Lead Agency to inform parents who receive TANF benefits about the exception to the individual penalties associated with the work requirement for any single custodial parent who has a demonstrated inability to obtain needed child care for a child under 6 years of age.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

In fulfilling this requirement, the following criteria or definitions are applied by the TANF agency to determine whether the parent has a demonstrated inability to obtain needed child care:

(NOTE: The TANF agency, not the Child Care Lead Agency, is responsible for establishing the following criteria or definitions. These criteria or definitions are offered in this Plan as a matter of public record. The TANF agency that established these criteria or definitions is: Washington State Department of Social and Health Services

- "appropriate child care": means licensed, certified or approved under state laws and regulations that apply to the type of child care you use, and that you may make your own choice among child care options that are available in your area.
- "reasonable distance": means that you can reach the child care site without travel that exceeds normal expectations in your community.
- "unsuitability of informal child care": By implication, anything that is not allowable as a reimbursable child care option as defined in WAC 388-290-850 would constitute unsuitable informal child care and could not be reimbursed with CCDF funding.
- "affordable child care arrangements": means at or below your share of the child care costs ("co-payment") calculated by the Working Connections Child Care Program.

PART 5 - ACTIVITIES & SERVICES TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY AND AVAILABILITY OF CHILD CARE

5.1 The Child Care and Development Fund provides earmarks for infant and toddler care and school-age care and resource and referral services as well as the special earmark for quality activities.

- The following describes the activities funded to improve the quality of care for infants/toddlers and identifies the entity(ies) providing them:

Washington State has focused on recent research on infant and child brain development to advance thinking and promote knowledge of the importance of early learning. A public-private collaboration has developed a statewide system to improve health and safety standards through consultation, training and technical assistance, and by building capacity and quality enhancement projects. This collaborative effort has involved representatives from multiple state agencies and numerous educational, health and community organizations. Initially it was a statewide effort to provide brain development training for parents, caregivers, and all persons and systems that come into contact with pregnant women and children. The project has expanded beyond providing training on early brain development research to building capacity and quality enhancements for infant and toddler care, and creating an infant nurse consultation system.

The following four areas of activity seek to improve the quality of care for infants/toddler:

1. Capacity and Quality Enhancement: Funding from the quality earmark has been used over the past two years to expand Child Care Resource and Referral services so that they are available statewide, as well as to provide increased hours of operation in rural areas of Washington State.
2. Local Health Jurisdiction Pilot Sites: Funding awarded to the state Department of Health, has provided funding to all local health jurisdictions within the state. This funding was phased in with 10 initial pilot sites and expanded to 34 local health jurisdictions by 12/30/00. CCDF funds will be used during the period of this state plan to continue funding local health jurisdictions to provide consultation through systems development within communities to child care centers and homes.

The State Department of Health through Healthy Child Care Washington is providing consultation, evaluation, and technical support to the local health jurisdictions. The Department of Health also developed an Infant/Toddler Nurse Consultation Handbook, Public Health Consultation In Child Care . (See Attachment 18, Public Health Consultation in Child Care).

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

The Department of Health is developing an evaluation process collaboratively designed by DOH, LHJ representatives, and an evaluation consultant that includes information identified in the year end report and will be consistent with the National Evaluation of Community Integrated Service Systems (CISS) Development in Child Care Grants.

4. Brain Research, Training and Awareness: A volunteer Steering Committee and three workgroups are directing activities, focused on brain research and its implication for developmentally appropriate care for babies and toddlers. Members are drawn from various state and local agencies and entities involved in working with children and providers. The Steering Committee identified three important areas: training, public awareness and enhancing skills and knowledge.

Nearly 13,000 people have been trained statewide in early brain development research and its implications. Groups of trainers (“Brain Squads”) have been organized in local communities across the state to train others such as child care providers and parents, speak to interested local groups, and generally serve as locally based information centers for public awareness and outreach. Both advanced and basic training workgroups for trainers who educate targeted stakeholders are up-dated regularly on brain research and its implications, and through an annual statewide training event. A media workgroup formulates and implements a public awareness campaign to raise public knowledge and skills. The campaign develops information for distribution in various formats, accessible to varied audiences.

- BrainNet Web-site (www.BrainNet.wa.gov) is available for Community access.
 - BrainNet Parent/Caregiver brochure entitled Babies are born learning.... Make every moment count was developed (translated in five languages) and made available throughout the state. (See Attachment 19, Babies are born learning.....Make every moment count.)
 - BrainNet and C.H.E.F. (Comprehensive Health Education Foundation) partnered to provide Healthy Beginning, Nurturing Young Children’s Growing Minds Facilitator’s Trainings statewide from March through May 2001. Trainings were made available in Kennewick, Seattle, Vancouver and two trainings were held in the Spokane area.
- The following describes child care resource and referral activities funded and identifies the entity(ies) providing them:

Child care resource and referral services were mandated by Washington State law in 1993 under RCW 74.13.0903. Child care resource and referral agencies are responsible for needs assessments, resource development, provider training, technical assistance, and parents training and outreach. In addition, this law mandated the creation of a statewide network, to improve the quantity and quality of child care available in Washington State by fostering statewide strategies, generating, and nurturing effective public-private partnerships. The statewide network also provides important training; creates standards of service, and provides general technical assistance to its 18 locally based child care resource and referral programs.

- The following describes school-aged child care activities funded and identifies the entity(ies) providing them.

The Division of Child Care and Early Learning contracts with the School's Out Washington to improve the quality and expand capacity to serve school-age children and youth in Washington State (WRAP). Working in collaboration with the Washington School-Age Care Alliance, Seattle MOST Project and the School-Age Care Subcommittee of the Washington State Child Care Coordinating Committee, School's Out Consortium leverages public dollars with grants from private foundations to perform the following services:

- Provide training and technical assistance to school-age programs via telephone, site visits, a quarterly newsletter and resource library;
- Sponsor and plan an annual statewide school-age conference;
- Educate and engage communities through participation in local, regional and statewide groups; and
- Provide funding to local out-of-school time programs to meet or maintain licensing requirements.

During the year 2000, School's Out Washington published the first status report on out-of-school time care in Washington State. The report titled Out of School Time Care In Washington 2000 identifies the barriers families and communities face in trying to ensure that school-age children and youth are engaged in safe, enriching activities. The report also focuses on what young people between the ages of 5 and 14 years are doing during the times they are not in school. (See Attachment 20, 2000 Annual Report – Out-of-School Time Care in Washington State 2000 Summary Report/Linking Up With Partners In Caring).

- 5.2 The law requires that not less than 4% of the CCDF be set-aside for quality activities (658E(c)(3)(B), 658G, §§98.13(a), 98.16(h), 98.51, 98.16(h)). The Lead Agency estimates that the following amount and percentage will be used for the quality activities (not including earmarked funds):

Washington State will spend at least the 4% required in statute to be spent on quality. We estimate this amount to be approximately $10,000,000.

- 5.3 Check either "Yes" or "No" for each activity listed to indicate which activities the Lead Agency will undertake to improve the availability and quality of child care (include activities funded through the 4% quality set-aside as well as the special earmark for quality activities). (658E(c)(3)(B), §98.13(a), 98.16(h))

5.4 Describe each activity that is checked "Yes" above and identify the entity(ies) providing them.

The State is using a three point strategy to improve the quality, availability and accessibility of child care in Washington. The three strategies are focused on:

CAPACITY AND INFRASTRUCTURE FOR QUALITY SERVICES insuring availability of suitable physical spaces, infrastructure to support diversity of settings, resource and referral coverage for access and consumer education, links to transportation, and licensing.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT AND RETENTION insuring caregiver training, compensation and career mobility; and FINANCING AND AFFORDABILITY insuring sufficient funding (public and private) to support quality programs and parent choice, affordable co-pay levels, and higher income eligibility limits for low income parents.

COMPREHENSIVE CONSUMER EDUCATION: Choosing Child Care is a Consumer Guide for Parents developed by the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services. This booklet aims to help parents become better consumers with a detailed explanation of the choices available, guidance to staffing, help with child care costs, and a checklist for making wise child care choices. Additionally, funds are provided to child care resource and referral state agencies for consumer education activities when families call to locate child care. Consumer education is one element that is included in all capacity and infrastructure initiatives. (See Attachment 21, Choosing Child Care: A Consumer Guide for Parents)(DSHS 22-516(X)(Rev. 10/98).

In addition, in the 2000 Legislature Session a bill was passed to create a toll-free number for parents to call for information about their child care home or center. The toll-free number simplifies the process for parents by allowing them to call one central number. They can learn general information such as:

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- If their child care provider is licensed;
- If any valid licensing complaints and founded CPS complaints have been made to the department by other parents; and
- Basic information about capacity, ages of children served, and the length of time a provider has been licensed.

Any parent seeking a new child care provider is transferred to the Washington State Child Care Resource and Referral Network. Calls are transferred to intake workers and licensors if the parent wishes to report a licensing violation or obtain more specific information regarding their child care provider.

Parents may call 1-866-48-CHECK to access the information line or access the web site at www.dshs.wa.gov/childcareinfo.

Additionally, DCCEL provides technical assistance to expand provider and parent information on the Child Care Resource and Referral Network Site www.childcarenet.org. Funds are also provided to the Child Care Resource and Referral Network to create an extensive resource for employers on the same web site.

Information relating to child care homes and centers, statewide child care programs, available publications, resources, and contract opportunities are available through the DCCEL (formerly OCCP) website www.wa.gov/dshs/occp. Information about child care businesses and employers seeking solutions to employee recruitment and retention issues through the OTED (formerly DCTED) web site www.oted.wa.gov/edd/bta.

GRANTS OR LOANS TO PROVIDERS TO ASSIST IN MEETING STATE AND LOCAL STANDARDS: CCDF funds are used to support the Child Care Advantages program in the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development (DCTED). DCTED funds provide technical assistance grants and low interest loan assistance to businesses to develop child care facilities for their employees' children, particularly children of low-income workers.

DCTED administers the Child Care Facility Fund which provides low-interest loans and small grants to build or expand employer-supported child care facilities. In 2001, there are 85 employer-supported child care facilities in Washington that provide care for over 5,500 children.

DCTED, in the past two years, initiated a Child Care Micro Loan Program (with state TANF-reinvestment funds) to increase access to capital for child care businesses across the state. Since its inception, the micro-loan program has given loans to 34 child care businesses, creating 52 new jobs and helping to retain another 46 jobs. These loans also created 383 new child care slots and improved the quality of care (reported through May 2001). The child care micro loan program has created five new revolving loan funds in communities throughout the state which will be self-sustaining after 2002.

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

CCDF funds are being used to create business development workbooks for licensed child care providers, both homes and centers. These manuals will be made available at time of licensing orientation, licensing preparation, and licensing review to assist child care providers in developing and implementing successful business plans. The manuals, “Minding the Business of Child Care” will be available both on-line and in hard copy. The lead agency plans to review the skills standards for basic business knowledge required by child care providers, both homes and centers. CCDF funds have also been used to create a manual on Building Child Care Facilities in Washington.

DSHS has made funds available to local communities throughout the state to improve quality of child care services, expand child care services to Washington families and communities with unmet child care needs, and to expand child care options for low income families. These included funding both child care provider recruitment and child care provider retention services by providing licensing assistance, mentoring, technical assistance, consultation, equipment needs assessment and purchase, a substitute child care provider bank and other specialized models.

In addition, DSHS staff have been working with banks, micro lending institutions, child care resource and referral agencies and local governments to determine the feasibility of a statewide Child Care Facility Fund.

TRIBAL STATE CHILD CARE WORK GROUP: Tribal child care directors meet with the Region X and DCCCEL tribal liaisons to share information, learn about new programs, identify problem issues, prioritize group needs, and development of the an annual plan.

MONITORING OF COMPLIANCE WITH LICENSING AND REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS: Washington State requires full licensing of child care centers and homes including on-site inspections. Every three years, each center or home has to renew its license. If there is a complaint, each complaint is investigated with unannounced site visits. Corrective action includes a statement of deficiencies and plan of correction, probationary licenses, and civil penalties, as well as license revocation, suspension, and denial. Licensors make frequent monitoring visits to facilities with either an initial or probationary license. Child care centers receive unannounced annual monitoring visits and family child care homes receive an unannounced interim monitoring visit within the three year licensing cycle.

TRAINING AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE/Washington State Training and Registry System (STARS): The STARS program improves child care through basic and on-going training for child care providers. Family child care licensees, child care center and school-age directors, program supervisors and lead staff are required to complete 20-hour Basic STARS training within the first six months of licensure or employment date, or meet the educational exemption. Experienced providers may apply for a waiver, based on specific criteria. (See Attachment 22, Washington State Training and Registry System/Washington Stars)

Each year thereafter, mandatory participants must complete ten clock hours or one college credit of approved training. For directors and program supervisors, five of the ten hours

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

must be in program management or administration. Scholarships are available for both the Basic and continuing training requirement.

Provider training records, trainer profiles and training information are recorded in the STARS registry (a web based database that can be accessed by providers, trainers, licensor and the general public).

DSHS contracts with WAEYC to administer trainer and training approval, scholarship disbursement, general coordination publicity, and collection of provider information for the STARS Registry.

- Scholarship and Conference Support- DSHS provides partial support to conferences that are STARS approved and scholarships to child care providers who do not qualify for the STARS scholarships.

COMPENSATION FOR CHILD CARE PROVIDERS: Four million dollars has been proposed in the DSHS budget for the 01-03 biennium to improve the compensation of child care providers through the continued development and implementation of the Washington State Career and Wage Ladder Pilot Project. Child care centers from around the state were selected to participate in this collaborative project which offers a financial incentive to child care workers based on their education, level of responsibility and employment longevity.

OTHER QUALITY ACTIVITIES THAT INCREASE PARENTAL CHOICE, AND IMPROVE THE QUALITY AND AVAILABILITY OF CHILD CARE:

- Child Care Capacity Project: In October 2000, funding was awarded to 31 public and private agencies around the state to expand access to quality child care. The funds are used specifically to create more licensed child care during out-of-school hours, nonstandard hours, for infants, and for children with special needs.
- Funding was awarded to Washington State Child Care Resource and Referral Network in developing a distance learning format for delivering entry level training that meets Washington requirements to family child care providers in remote areas;
- The lead agency worked with the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the development of statewide community teams to provide collaborative efforts in improving transitions from one early care and education environment to another and to improve educational outcomes for all children.
- Funds were awarded Healthy Child Care Washington State to promote, model and provide training and technical assistance for community level consultation through local health jurisdictions to child care and youth care providers;
- Funds were awarded to provide a Higher Education Liaison project to provide collaboration with community and technical colleges and to establish partnerships with four-year institutions to improve articulation in a comprehensive system of professional preparation in the field of early childhood education;

PART 6 - HEALTH AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS FOR PROVIDERS

(ONLY THE 50 STATES AND THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA COMPLETE PART 6.
ONLY TERRITORIES COMPLETE PART 7.)

The National Resource Center for Health and Safety in Child Care (NRCHSCC) of DHHS's Maternal and Child Health Bureau supports a comprehensive, current, on-line listing of the licensing and regulatory requirements for child care in the 50 States and the District of Columbia. In lieu of requiring a State Lead Agency to provide information that is already publicly available, ACF accepts this compilation as accurately reflecting the States' licensing requirements. The listing, which is maintained by the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center School of Nursing, is available on the World Wide Web at: <http://nrc.uchsc.edu/>

Section 6.1 - Health and Safety Requirements for Center-Based Providers (658E(c)(2)(F), §§98.41, §98.16(j))

6.1.1 Are all center-based providers paid with CCDF funds subject to licensing under State law which is reflected in the NRCHSCC's compilation referenced above? If:

() YES, answer 6.1.2 and proceed to 6.2.

(X) NO, answer 6.1.2 and 6.1.3.

Centers that are not subject to licensing must be “certified” as meeting Washington State licensing requirements, or have an approved federal plan in accordance with national or state standards for health and safety standards.

The department may “certify” a day care center for payment if the center is:

- (a) Licensed by a an Indian tribe;
- (b) Certified by the Federal Department of Defense; or
- (c) Approved by the superintendent of public instruction’s office.

ECEAP PROGRAMS: ECEAP Programs are not subject to licensing under state law. ECEAP Program Performance Standards (See attachment 25, ECEAP Program Performance Standards) must provide health services using an approach that addresses the individual child's health issues and makes appropriate referrals to family members. Staff and families must work together to remove obstacles to the health and safe development of each child. Health practices must address family needs through a variety of service strategies. These strategies must include:

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

- Education of children and families concerning effective nutritional and sanitation practices, child safety, medical and dental care, non-violent communication and child abuse;
- Development of environments and practices that minimize injury to emergency situations;
- Education of staff, children and families to recognize and report child abuse;
- Provision of appropriate medical, dental, mental health, nutrition, and therapeutic services indicated by child's status.
- Referral of parents/guardians to appropriate services that address physical, mental, emotional and medical issues not covered by ECEAP services; and
- Education of parents about advocating for their child's health and safety needs in various community and educational environments.

SEASONAL DAY CAMP PROGRAMS: Seasonal day camp programs for school age care are exempt from licensing but those that have a contract with the State of Washington and provide subsidized child care are eligible for Working Connections Child Care (WCCC) under the following conditions:

- (a) Of a duration of three months or less;
- (b) Engaged primarily in recreational or educational activities; and
- (c) Accredited by the American Camping Association (ACA). (See Attachment 26, American Camping Association Accreditation Standards for Camp Programs and Services).

A total of twenty-one (21) ACA accredited seasonal day camps have received child care subsidy payments in the state. Sixteen sites are in King County, two in Pierce, and one each in Spokane and Kitsap Counties. The American Camping Association is the only nationally recognized camp accreditation program in the United States. The accreditation Standards are rather high and they meet or exceed the standards for quality care.

The Seasonal Camps pay a fee to the ACA for the accreditation process, which is proportional to the camp's total operating expense and the number of children to be served. DCCEL receives a verification of the camp's ACA accreditation and issues a certificate based on the ACA's accreditation. The ACA accreditation has been the national and industry standard for camps since 1950. It has high standards that apply to food service, transportation, health and wellness, operational management, human resources and outdoor program activities. In some case the ACA standards exceed the licensing standards

6.1.2 Have center licensing requirements as relates to staff-child ratios, group size, or staff training been modified since approval of the last State Plan? (§98.41(a)(2) & (3)

(X) YES
() NO

STATE PLAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE
CHILD CARE & DEVELOPMENT FUND SERVICES
FOR THE PERIOD 10/1/01 – 9/30/03

6.1.3 For that center-based care which is NOT licensed, and therefore not reflected in NRCHSCC's compilation, the following health and safety requirements apply to child care services provided under the CCDF for:

- The prevention and control of infectious disease (including age-appropriate immunizations)

ECEAP PROGRAM: ECEAP Program Performance Standards require ECEAP programs to establish policies and practice to safeguard against children's exposure to and transmission of, infectious diseases in accordance with the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI), Infectious Disease Control Guide for School Staff developed by the Washington State Department of Health. Programs must follow universal safety precautions and follow local requirements for reporting of communicable diseases. Sufficient toilet and hand washing facilities that are readily available and reachable by children must be maintained.

Contractors must comply with state and local sanitation laws and regulations for food preparation and handling, storage, and service including:

- Clean toilets and hand washing facilities that are easily reached by children;
- Preparation of food in an area separate from toilet and hand washing facilities;

SEASONAL DAY CAMP PROGRAMS: The parent/guardian is responsible for selecting a caretaker who can meet health and safety requirements. However, Seasonal Day Camps standards for health and wellness provide a basis for accreditation through the American Camping Association, Inc. Standards focus on health and safety practices. Accreditation indicates to the public that the camp administration has voluntarily allowed its practices to be compared with the standards established by professionals in the camping industry. At least once every three years an outside team of trained camping professionals visits the accredited camp to verify compliance with the standards. Seasonal Camps are scored on the following criteria:

- First Aid and Emergency Care Personnel;
- Health History;
- Health Care Policies and Procedures;
- Health Care Policy/Procedures Review;
- Contact Information;
- Health Exam;
- Permission to Treat;
